I understand that pension accounts can only receive one lump sum amount, so I require a temporary superannuation account to be set up in this Fund for consolidation purposes, using my personal details provided in this application. This superannuation account will be a personal account with no insurance cover, will be invested in the default investment option, and is to be exited once all external roll-ins (as specified above) have been received and transferred to my new pension account.

I have provided my Tax File Number (TFN) in Step 1 of this form.

Step 8 – Reversionary beneficiary nomination

Before your pension starts, you can nominate your spouse as a reversionary beneficiary. This means that if you die with money in your account, your spouse will continue to receive your pension, as long as he or she is your spouse at the time of your death.

You cannot change your reversionary beneficiary once your pension starts.

If you do not wish to nominate a reversionary beneficiary (or the nominated reversionary beneficiary dies before you or ceases to be your spouse) you may make a binding death benefit nomination to determine which of your dependants (or your legal personal representative) the balance of your account is to be paid to and in what proportion.

If you wish to nominate a reversionary beneficiary please provide details below.
